

Pictures are commonplace. Photographs are special. Alex Lowy takes photographs.

He puts a subject at ease and communicates every aspect of the moment -- not to make it good, but to make it great. I am sure people are thrilled to see their head shot or group portrait by Alex and notice there's something special going on. I was.

Alex's website lowyphoto.com will blow you away with the range of his talent. I'm a satisfied client who knows Alex has a gift for seeing people and instants as they could be and capturing the decisive moment.

Lots of people have cameras and take pictures. A photographer is something more. If you're looking for a photographer, you can't do better than Alex.
