Steve Hurley is a rare mix of top tech skill and great people-sense. He did two awesome start-to-finish web design projects for me (there will be more) and I totally recommend him for five reasons.

1) Technical knowledge and skill: second to none.
2) Artistic talent: his work is pleasing to the eye.
3) User awareness: simple, clear, easy, natural flow. So good you don't even notice.
4) Attitude: Steve loves collaborating, loves a challenge. Super reliable. Working with him made me better at what I do.
5) Cost: Steve is the definition of reasonable for his entire industry.

I wouldn't go anywhere else for my next design. Knowing that Steve is The Guy gives me confidence, saves me a ton of time, and that's one more benefit of working with him.
