

(no nonsense blue collar voice)

Meeting payroll? That's not hard.

(loud metallic clang like vault door slamming shut)

Balancing the books? Not hard.

(clang)

Making a profit? Naah, that's not hard either. You know what's hard? Steel.

Steel is hard. So my business headquarters are made by Armstrong Steel.

A business has to make sense before it makes money. And nothing makes more sense than housing a business in Armstrong Steel buildings. Call Armstrong today and tell 'em you need your space. Up to a hundred thousand square feet of dependable steel-enclosed space. They'll build it for you at half the cost of conventional construction. Warehouse space. Garage space. Office space. Yeah, steel is hard, but this is easy. Get a quote on the steel building you need by calling Armstrong Steel at (800) 99-STEEL. Lock in spring savings up to thirty percent before the price of steel goes back up. And you know it will. (800) 99-STEEL.
